

NO LIMITS? The Mako'ver

NO FUTURE

Let's stop uncontrolled shark fishing now!

The Shark Trust continues its quest to stop uncontrolled shark fishing in the Atlantic high-seas, but this year, we're shifting our focus to Shortfin Mako – an exceptionally vulnerable species caught with no limits.

This November brings a critical opportunity to protect makos from overfishing in the Atlantic.

We call on the European Commission to win the first international fishing limits for Shortfin Makos, based on new scientific advice.

It's now make or break for these sharks. Time to step up!
